MISCELLANEOUS.

The concert at Morgan's hall on Thursday evening was quite a success, the musical part of the entertainment being especially worthy of attention. The address of the night, coupled with the lecture at the new church drew somewhat from the attendance, yet there was a fair house.

Try again when there is a clear path.

Rev. J. J. Hoffman, of Niles, New

York, arrived in town Thursday afternoon

last, and has been visiting his father's family since. He preached to a full house at the new church on Sunday evening last, and proposes remaining in these parts some three or four weeks, during which time he will preach once at Albion and once at Rock River. He has been engaged for some time in evangelical work in Jackson Center, Ohio, and goes from here to Southern Illinois to open up work in the same line.

—Mr. Thomas Martin, of Wilton, Wis.,

was in town on Thursday last.

—Mr. James Perry, of Menasha, Wis.,

made on a visit to his sister Mrs. J. S.

Mills, of this village, was taken suddenly in a few days, and is having a run of typhoid fever.

—Mrs. S. D. Butts has been spending the last two weeks at his farm in Evansville,

looking after his interests there.

—Mr. George Sayers, of Koshkonong, brother-in-law of Stephen S. Sayers, last Friday, that weighed 158 pounds, nearly 20 pounds to the bird. The field is open to competition. Who enters?

—Wednesday, of last week, was the last general field day in duck shooting. The brood of the storm wind that night wrapping Lake Koshkonong in a coat of ice made. Mr. Eddie Bingham shot upward of 50 birds that day.

—Misses Ella and Myrtle Laikin have been spending the past week at Walworth

visiting their brother, Professor Laikin

and other friends.

—Thanksgiving day will be observed

generally by our citizens. The S. D. B.

Agency will, as usual, have a sermon at 11 o'clock, and Thanksgiving dinner and a general social gathering in the afternoon.

—Rev. Dr. Wardlaw, N. E. Maxon and

P. M. Buten were among the representatives from the Junction at the late Grant boom in Chicago.

—Mr. Ormazo, of Ottumwa, started for De-

Moines, Iowa, last week, where he proposes to spend the winter with his brother-in-law, Mr. J. F. Crandall. He drowed through with team and buggy.

—Mr. C. P. Foster takes his departure

this week for his new home in Milwaukee.

The attaches of his house here will accompany him, with one or two exceptions.

Mr. Foster has been a respected and enterprising citizen, and he will take with him

the regrets as well as the well wishes of the entire community.

—Thursday afternoon, the 13th inst., a quiet marriage ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Spaulding,

in this village, at which time and place

Rev. J. C. Rogers united in bonds matrimonial, Mr. Rowland Burdick, of Janesville, and Miss Julia A. Davis, of this village.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple took the train for Janesville, the home of the groom.

—The friends of Mrs. John R. Butts gave her a birthday surprise party on Friday last, it being her 40th anniversary. There were forty persons present, and a good social time the result.

—The friends of Mrs. John R. Butts gave

—Some skating.
—Only a month to Christmas.
—Mrs. Day will read at Lappin's hall to-night.

—Some more of those striped velvet at McKee & Bros.
—The police have a rest when they have "nary a rest."

—Will Lake was in the city yesterday, but only for an hour.

—Those $10 and $15 mink furs are selling fast at McKee & Bros.

—Chickens and turkeys are having their playing now, even is there is no snow.

—Prof. Cumcock started last night for McGregor and is to make a trip through Iowa.

—Miss Heise remains in about the same condition, and suffers badly from pains in her head and neck.

—Two young men were baptized and received into the church by Rev. Mr. Chapell last Sunday evening.

—There will be a screaming farce at Lappin's hall, to-night. Admission ten cents. Dancing tickets fifty cents.

—Miss Fannie Terwilliger arrived home yesterday afternoon from Kansas City, where she has been visiting for some time.

—Dillon et al started on the morning early train for Woodstock where they are to play to-night, and from there go to Elgin.

—Dillon's show and free passes proved too much last night for the City Fathers and they met to adjourn until Wednesday evening.

—William Menzies, who was so badly kicked by a horse, is getting along very well, and there is every reason to hope for a speedy recovery.

—A ten-year-old son of John Schmidley, of La Prairie, broke a leg last Saturday by falling out of a tree. Dr. Loomis set it, and the boy is doing well.

—Talk about trade booming. Why, Mrs. Amsden at McKee Bros., has already taken 500 orders for ladies hats so far this fall and still there's more to follow.

—Rock River Encompassment No. 3 and Daughters of Rebecca No. 26, I. O. O. F., will hold another of their pleasant socials at Apollo hall on Thursday evening, Dec 18.

—A man by the name of Hobbs is about starting a shooting gallery in this city. He has not fully decided upon the location, but expects to fix upon East Milwaukee street.

—Dr. Brydon, the Scotch doctor, has arrived in the city again, and is stopping at the Pender house, where he will be glad to meet all those who are in need of his services.

—We notice that Harry Sloan, son of A. Scott Sloan, has lately been married to a young lady in Appleton, of which city he is City Attorney. His old friends here will not be backward in congratulating him.

—Thanksgiving services are to be held at Trinity church Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the pastor is to give a discourse on "Giving of that which costs something." Appropriate music has been prepared for the occasion by the choir.

—Hon. Elmer Washburn, of Chicago Examiner of the National Banks, is in the city looking over the affairs of the Janesville Banks, as a matter of form, for the banks are known to be sound and in no flourishing condition as to need no investigation, except to satisfy the law.

—Marshal Russell is wide-awake except when he is asleep, and in order to be possessed even then as to what is going on, he has had J. W. Bates put an electric bell into his sleeping room, with wires connecting with the No. 1 Engine house so that when an alarm is sounded he will be sure to hear it.

—F. B. Cook, of Johnston, who was recently married, was the victim of a disgraceful charivari Saturday night. The blinds were scraped with bed slats, squealing pigs were let loose in the house, two barrels of vinegar were tapped and a general howl of rowdiness shown. If half the reports are true, some of the offenders should be brought to justice.

—A man who is from morning to night harping about somebody's else real or fancied weakness, gets little sympathy or charity for himself when he needs it. Chronic fault-finders are not appreciated. It don't pay to look at the world through blue glass. Remember that, oh, young man, in thy youth, and when thou art old for aye.

—George Ross, of Lima, was rolling along Milwaukee street to-day in a sad condition of intoxication, or some strange spell, which made him unable to care for himself. As he launched himself on the bridge, his prow went down, and he brought up with a crash, which left his record on his face in the shape of several bad bruises. Officer Cutts took him in tow and put him Constable's dry dock for repairs.

—Prof. Severance desires the Gazette to state that the next lesson given to his pupils in dancing here will be on Tanquerel's giving eve, next Wednesday night. The school will hold a little later than usual on that evening in order to give friends a chance to join in after nine o'clock. A small fee only will be charged. Miss Elsie Severance, the Professor's daughter, is to be with him and will assist him in the exercises.

—Elaborate preparations are being made for the Knights of Pythias banquet. The invited guests who desire to use carriages are requested to leave their orders at Jackson's or at Carter's livery stable, at as early a date as possible, and to be in readiness to have the carriages call at 6:30 o'clock on that evening. The ladies should be only ready as there will be no "wait for the wagon," promptness being necessary in order to have the arrangements successfully carried out.

—The remains of the late H. W. Lee were brought to this city this afternoon from Buffalo, being accompanied by Mrs. Lee, and her son and daughter. The funeral services are to be held at the residence of Mr. J. W. Nash at 10 o'clock to-morrow forenoon, Rev. H. Sewell officiating. Mr. Lee formerly resided in Janesville.

ville, removing from here some eleven years ago. At the time of his death he was in the employ of the Erie Railroad Company, and had reached more than the three score years and ten allotted to man. He was an active, enterprising man, who held the respect and confidence of all with whom he was acquainted. His two sons, Howard and Richard Lee, still live here, and are well known to our citizens.

RICH READINGS.

Last evening over three hundred ladies and gentlemen, from the most cultured circles of Janesville society gathered at Cannon's hall to greet Prof. Cumcock, of the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., who was announced to give an evening's readings. The first part of the programme was given to the "Merchant of Venice," and as many in the audience have of late been studying that play, in connection with the two literary clubs of this city, more than usual interest was taken in Prof. Cumcock's rendition of the selected portions, and he was listened to closely and with appreciation. He was introduced by Rev. Mr. Faylie, and as soon as the hearty greeting of applause had ended, he at once entered upon the bond scene, and after the first naming of the characters, there was no need of further explanations of the dramatic personae, so distinctly did he bring out by tone and manner the individuality of each. He pictured next Shylock's despair, and capped that portion of the programme with a wonderfully vivid representation of the scene in which Shylock claims his pound of flesh, and the final decision of the law. After the almost mesmeric influence of the hour is over, one is left in amazed wonder how one man, with none of the clap traps of costumes or scenic effects, can so vividly picture such characters, changing from one to the other with lightning speed, and yet keeping each so distinct that one almost doubts whether he has not been listening to more than a single voice. His interpretations showed that he had not merely become familiar with the words, but had caught somewhat of the spirit of the great dramatist, and in him this spirit surely finds a worthy expression.

The second part of the programme was given to an entirely different class of selections. "Father Phil's Subscription List," made all roar and roar again. Others had probably rendered the grotesque part of this as well as he, but when he touched upon the pathetic, he showed a strong superiority, and changed the laughter to tears in almost the wave of a hand. "Jack Johnston the Tinker" was given in a broad hearty Scotch, and with an earnest, sort of lordly independence, which showed an entirely different kind of power. "The Charge of the Light Brigade" is old, but seemed not so, and the "Georgia Sermon"—it can never be rightly pictured. The audience could hardly keep within bounds.

Prof. Cumcock, besides being of high rank in his profession, is a genial, whole-souled gentleman, whom one delights to meet socially. He has won many admirers and friends here, who will always give him a hearty welcome to this city.

MOST RAPIDLY SURPRISED.

There was one worthy couple who expected last evening to go to the Opera house. It was Mr. and Mrs. E. Hayward. As they had made all ready for a start, there was a pull on the latch string, and in marched fifty or seventy-five of their friends, who declared that they had come to spend the evening. It was a complete surprise, but was heartily enjoyed by the victims, and was withal very appropriate as the occasion was the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward. The friends having learned this had formed at Mr. A. S. Lee's residence, then gone to Mr. G. Alldredge's and received further additions, and then swooped down upon the unwary couple in their home. The self-invited guests brought with them a bountiful supply of provisions, and a large variety of glassware. The provisions were served up into a happy feast, and the glassware was neatly presented to Mr. and Mrs. Hayward by Mr. J. B. Rowley, who served as spokesman. Mr. Hayward responded, thanking the friends, and telling them to come again in fifteen years from now, and as often between now and then as they felt so disposed. It was a happy informal affair and all enjoyed it hugely. The visitors were made welcome, and all went in for a good time. The complete surprise, the heartiness and earnestness of the impromptu celebration, the easy manners of all, made the gathering a happy one in all respects. Mr. Hayward is Foreman of the Chicago & Northwestern shops and in his business connection with the world has won many friends, while his worthy wife in her sphere has gained no less a number. All join in wishing them many more such happy anniversaries.

HAND ON THE DOCTORS. ST. JACOB'S OIL.

"OUR NEXT PRESIDENT."

There was a large audience to greet John Dillon last evening at the Opera house. Considerable anxiety was felt to see the new play of "Our Next President," and none went away disappointed, it meeting their full expectations. Dillon is without doubt one of the best low comedians in the country, and in his mannerisms has some most ludicrous peculiarities, which cannot be imitated, and which though trilling in their nature, are yet of such a character as to convulse an audience with laughter time after time, with no apparent tendency to sauciness. The play last night was of a little heavier order than that which Dillon and his company generally take, and it was a decided change for the better. The support was excellent and well balanced. Mr. Blamdi did some excellent work. He always does, and is one of the most even actors on the stage. Miss Dillon showed marked improvement since her last appearance here, and put in some fine bits of the emotional. Altogether it was an entertainment pleasing throughout. The audience was enthusiastic and the outburst of applause and laughter were generously bestowed on those who had thus furnished them so much enjoyment and fun.
